Petersen-Dean, Inc. acquires Brinkmann Roofing, Inc.

Newark, Ca. April 23, 2007 - Petersen-Dean, Inc., is set to acquire Brinkmann Roofing, Inc., headquartered in Houston, Texas. The transaction is scheduled to close on April 30, 2007. Terms remain confidential.

Petersen-Dean, with offices in Arizona, California, Florida and Nevada, was third in the 2006 R.S.I. ranking of the top 100 roofing contractors in the United States. The acquisition of Brinkmann Roofing gives Petersen-Dean a substantial presence in both commercial and residential roofing in the state of Texas.

"We were fortunate to find such a well managed company with such passionate leaders. Both firms have a strong interest in growing the business in Texas. With our purchasing power, huge product range and constant innovation, we believe all consumers will benefit." said Jim Petersen, president of Petersen-Dean, Inc.

"Petersen-Dean shares our passion for building the best roofs at the best price. Now, Petersen-Dean can take an established roofing company and grow it throughout Texas" said Mike Brinkmann, president of Brinkmann Roofing.

Earlier this year, Petersen-Dean established an alliance with SunPower (NASDAQ-SPWR) for roof top solar systems.
